Paul Daems

SEWERAGE

With the growth of early settlements into large villages and cities, the problem of waste also arose.
People sought solutions, a quest that continues to this day.

The environment could not naturally process excrement, urine and wastewater. Digging pits was no longer sufficient.

Meter stamp Francotyp C
Date without stops –
Value type 000

V-mail ↙↓

↑ Stationery Poland 12.10.1984

Through a system of pipes, waste could be safely transported underground.

Methods used for laying sewer systems: either mechanically of manually.