

HEAD GEARS

Head Gears or Turbans are worn in India as a social or community value. In some communities it is considered a great act of bravery or valour and they take pride in adorning it. Different parts of India has different forms and styles and one can normally identify the community or area using their head gear or turban. They wear it with great pride and feel recognized in their community by adorning this. India Post has come out with a set of 16 such types that are found across India.

10.02.2017

Haryanvi Turban

Is called as Khindka and worn in Haryana

Hornbill Warrior Cap

Worn by Naga

No of feathers on it decides his achievement

1000ps

Gujarati Turban

Worn in Gujarat

Called Phento

Worn with Chorno

16 stamps

Bison Horn Maria Tribe Cap
Worn in Chhattis garh

Passed on from generation

to generation worn on occasions

3m

Rajasthani Turban

Rajasthan

Known as Pagdi or Safa

SPP Hyd

Wet Offset

Himachali Cap

Known as Kullu Cap

Multicolour

Angami Tribe Cap

Angami Naga Tribe

Made of bamboo feathers etc

To show their valour

Japi Cap

Worn in Assam

Made of clusters or Japs of the

Leaves to Tokou