

Disney AT WAR

The United States had barely entered World War 2 when the Disney studios were occupied by the U.S. Army to protect the nearby Lockheed aircraft plant. Animation production soon switched to propaganda films and after receiving requests from military and naval units for insignia, Disney produced over 1200 different designs free of charge to support Allied forces.

Auxiliary Squadron VJ 3

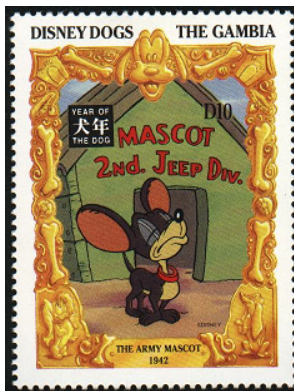

The Flying Tigers

Observation Squadron VO 2

In addition to propaganda and training films, the studio released a number of shorts using their most famous characters involved in the war.

The Army Mascot

Donald Gets Drafted

The New Spirit

Vanishing Private

Sky Trooper

Disneyana on Stamps Society - <https://disnimation.wixsite.com/doss>