

BIRDS

The world outside me would be empty to hear and watch if not for these wonderful gifts of nature. The hues sometimes makes you wonder is it for real, can they be created so beautifully. Whether not so beautiful or beautiful all birds in one way or the other make me forget myself and watch them in awe. The early cuckoo call, the chirping of birds in the silence or the flutter of their wings all make my heart beat faster. What is nature without these wonderful sized, coloured, prying and fluttering around. My dedication to these that are part of wonderful nature.
