

SUPERMAN ON TV

This exhibit is an example of originality in a collectors focus on the subject of stamp collecting. The hobby can spark an unexpected streak of creativity in collectors who want to be imaginative. Also, as shown in the last line of this exhibit, there are new surprises that can be uncovered in this hobby.

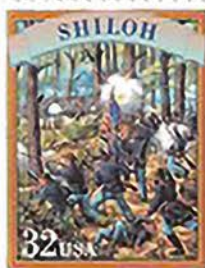

LOOK! Up in the sky!
It's a bird!

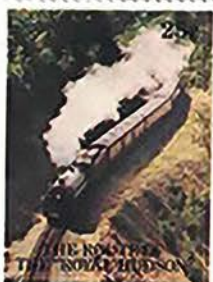

It's a plane!

NO! It's SUPERMAN!!!

Faster than a speeding
bullet!

More powerful than a locomotive!

Able to leap tall buildings
in a single bound!

Sent from the dying planet,
Krypton, by his parents,

to the safety of Earth,

he put on glasses to protect his identity.

Lois Lane, played
on TV by Noel Neill,
was fooled as he
became mild-
mannered Clark Kent.

With help from within the Fortress of Solitude,

he fought for truth, justice,

and the American Way!

Note: After creation of this exhibit it was learned that Clark Kent's glasses idea was based on Harold Lloyd!
