I have started my career as a killer 5000 years ago, when Tobacco was used for chewing and smoking as tribal rituals, whoever, I became a serial killer only in the 16th. Century , since then I was brilliant in changing my look and shape being a Pipe, Cigar, Cigarette, Hookah, Water Pipe and recently as electronic cigarette.

I take responsibility of killing 8.5 Million people every year, out of which I directly killed 7 Million, and the other 1.5 Million where killed indirectly by being around me. Governments tried to stop me, but they failed even with all the laws they created , I'm yet to be caught or stopped and will remain a leader killer at large.
